ALL AGENCIES

RECOGNITION OF CERTIFICATE – CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY

It has come to the attention of the Ministry of Health that some Agencies have refused to recognize certificates issued by the Catholic University, Fiapre.

An investigation has however revealed that the certificate of the university is issued by the affiliating university which is the University Of Ghana, Legon. The certificate has also been assessed and accepted by the National Accreditation Board and the National Council on Tertiary Education.

The Ministry therefore urges all Agencies to accept the certificate as authentic to forestall any unwarranted legal tussle in future.
